

Presentation Handout

After returning from the fall holiday, we will be spending three classes doing presentations about our final papers. This will give students an opportunity to share their work with colleagues and classmates plus begin to grow accustomed to the presenting in front of classes.

Your presentations should be about five minutes in length. Try not to go any longer. I would like you to cover:

- Your topic: Briefly summarize your research
- What approaches worked for you
- What approaches did not work for you
- Problems you encountered which you were able to get past

I have randomly selected the following students for each day. You must be present for the day you are speaking or you will receive a zero.

Monday November 30th

- Wendy Barraclough
- Kevin Cantwell
- Douglas Foster
- Nicole Garrison
- Kris Hug
- Raghid Najjar
- Joshua O'Neill
- Nick Scheffler
- Alexa Wagner

Wednesday December 2nd

- William Berrios
- Ashley Dimassimo
- David Fruk
- James Griffis
- Walter Ivins
- Ezzard Norris
- Bryanna Pratt
- Kyle Smith
- Jessie Warren

Monday December 7th

- Jason Booth
- Michael Dulo
- Lauryn Frymire
- Daniel Halcomb
- Ryan Lawson
- Karissa Offutt
- Andrew Sack
- Gianna Tamburrino
- Cherie Wilson