1. Your _____ paragraph should end with some sort of statement which offers a sense of closure to readers.
2. Your _____ should be clear: it should focus on what the essay is about and highlight the main ideas you will be supporting.
3. I suggested an _____ outline was the first thing to do after deciding on a thesis.
4. Your _____ paragraph will offer supporting sentences which highlight the main ideas of your paper.
5. Save _____ for the body of your paper (define your terms there!).

Bonus: What theorist from Duke University did I mention as a leading theorist on romance novels?
